KNOW ALLIE WOOSTER

Famous Racing Man to Have Great Relay Attraction at Stevens Point Fair.

All the elements that made you love the old fashioned "County Fair" with 1916 features added, will be in evidence at the Stevens Point Fair, Sept. 12, 13, 14 and 15. Notable among the attractions to be offered is the Allie Wooster string of world's champion running horses, with daring lady riders, who will perform in connection with the regular speed events.

Everybody in this part of the state knows Allie Wooster, as indeed all lovers of horses the country over do, and he has always had the reputation of being a leader in the great sport. Mr. Wooster's home is at Portage, Wis., and ever since he was a youngster he has been associated in one way or another with the racing game. In his younger days he was a jockey—and a good one too—but his greatest fame has come since he originated his relay races, acknowledged to be the "most thrilling of modern amusements." Mr. Wooster has exhibited at practically every state fair in the country, as well as other big race meets, and he is invariably signed up for return engagements.

Allie Wooster's "show" is undoubtedly the biggest drawing card any fair could get and the prospects are that this feature alone will draw thousands of people to the Stevens Point Fair this year.

DEATH OF MRS. CLINE.

The death of Mrs. Leonard Cline, a former Stevens Point resident, was recorded in the New London Press of August 10th as follows:

"Saturday the entire community was shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. Leonard Cline. Death was due to child birth and the life of both the mother and child was lost despite the best efforts of the medical profession.

"Mary Kurszevski was the daughter of Peter and Catherine Kurszevski and was born at Stevens Point. Deceased was thirty-one years old and was married to Leonard Cline eleven months ago. Death came to her at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The young husband, the mother and the brother and sisters have the deep sympathy of the entire community in this great sorrow that has come unto them.

"The funeral services were held on Tuesday morning from the Catholic church and burial was in the Catholic cemetery. Among those from a distance were Mrs. Mary Kroll of Antigo, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Koehl, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Kitowski, Mrs. Grebin, Mrs. A. Kurszevski, Joseph Kitowski and Mrs. John Nowak, all from Stevens Point."

LOOK GOOD—FEEL GOOD.

No one can either feel good nor look good while suffering from constipation. Get rid of that tired, draggy, lifeless feeling by a treatment of Dr. King's New Life Pills. Buy a box to-day, take one or two pills to-night. In the morning that stuffed dull feeling is gone and you feel better at once. 25c. at your druggist.

While the boss may not have the right way of doing things, he is paying to have them done that way.

LIVER TROUBLE.

"I am bothered with liver trouble about twice a year," writes Joe Dingman, Webster City, Iowa. "I have pains in my side and back and an awful soreness in my stomach. I heard of Chamberlain's Tablets and tried them. By the time I had used half a bottle of them I was feeling fine and had no signs of pain." Obtainable everywhere.

Just the Thing for Diarrhoea.

"About two years ago I had a severe attack of diarrhoea which lasted over a week," writes W. C. Jones, Buford, N. D. "I became so weak that I could not stand upright. A druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The first dose relieved me and within two days I was as well as ever." Many druggists recommend this remedy because they know that it is reliable. Obtainable everywhere.

A REMARKABLE GROWTH

The Big Mercantile Establishment in Texas Has Former Portage County Man at Head.

A recent "campaign and industrial edition" of the Hamilton Herald, published at Hamilton, Tex., devotes four columns of space to a write-up of the McKinley-Corrigan Co. and biographical sketches of individual members of the firm. A large number of The Gazette's readers will be interested in extracts taken from an issue received here, because of the fact of their acquaintance with Prof. J. E. Corrigan, president of the McKinley-Corrigan Co., who is a former Portage county resident, having spent his boyhood and young manhood here and has made frequent visits here since going to Texas.

Of Mr. Corrigan the Herald said: "The subject of this sketch came to Texas from Wisconsin in 1876, and to Hamilton in 1905, when he purchased an interest in the Beck & McKinley mercantile establishment, out of which has grown the McKinley-Corrigan Company. The title of professor is a prefix properly and appropriately bestowed for scholarly attainments. He was one of our country's true educators, and taught twenty years in Texas schools. His successful and phenomenal business career since entering the mercantile field is a complete refutation of that hoary theory that the training necessary to be a successful school teacher unfitted one for the practical things of life, and especially unfitted him for the successful conduct of all commercial enterprises. That Professor Corrigan was one of the most successful teachers who ever taught school in Central Texas is acclaimed by all who are familiar with his record along the line of education. However, it was reserved for the problems to be met incident to the successful conduct of a mercantile institution that his genius and enterprise were given their fullest scope.

"As his name would indicate, he is of Irish ancestry and he delineates most happily in physical aspect his Celtic origin. Like all men who have done worth-while things, he is an optimist and dreamer. He has vision and great perspective and the big establishment of which he is a potent factor is but the realization—the crystallization—of his dreams and ambition.

"His is a constructive mind, a mind that can plan and execute, and it is in this well developed faculty, the faculty of putting theory into practice, the faculty of systematizing and marshaling of ideas and impulses that made the school teacher, Professor James E. Corrigan, one of the builders of the great mercantile firm which bears his name."

Following are a few paragraphs relating to the business of the company of which Mr. Corrigan is president:

"The above firm has a record for growth and achievement rarely equaled in the annals of mercantile history. The story of the McKinley-Corrigan Company reads more like a story of fiction than one of facts. But what is here related are facts—cold facts—as revealed by their books of record.

"This firm began business in 1900 with a capital of $1,400. Fifteen years later finds it incorporated for $125,000 with capital stock paid in full. Its merchandise sales for 1915 amounted to $274,000. From September 1, 1915, to May 31, 1916, they bought cotton to the amount of $170,919.74. From June 1, 1915, to June 1, 1916, they paid the farmers for livestock $67,006.18, and in the same period they bought poultry and eggs to the amount of $37,048.80, and oats to the amount of $30,000.

These buildings, including their warehouse, have a floor area of 32,190 square feet and if made into a single building with a width of twenty-five feet, its length would be 1,288 feet, or very nearly a quarter of a mile."

This is called a surfacing machine and is used in grinding the surfaces of either flat or curved rough glass blanks to obtain in the finished lens the exact result required by your individual prescription. This operation requires careful, skilled workmanship.

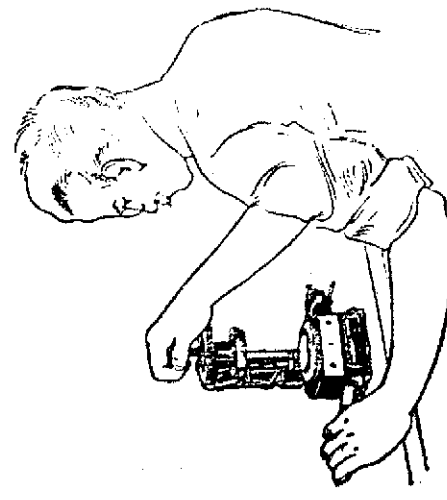

THE SECRET OF OUR SUCCESS

Our Workshop on the Premises Means to You Wearers of Glasses Absolute Accuracy--Quick Service

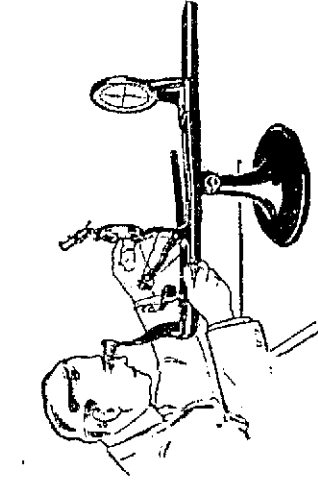

THE advance of Optical Science has rung the knell of the man with "Specs for sale." Everyone with even the slightest knowledge of optics knows today that satisfactory glasses cannot be sold from stock like sugar or shoes.

Recognition of this fact has brought about the necessity for "made-to-order" glasses--lenses that are ground exactly to your prescription, of a size and shape to suit your features and fitted in a frame or mounting best adapted to your requirements.

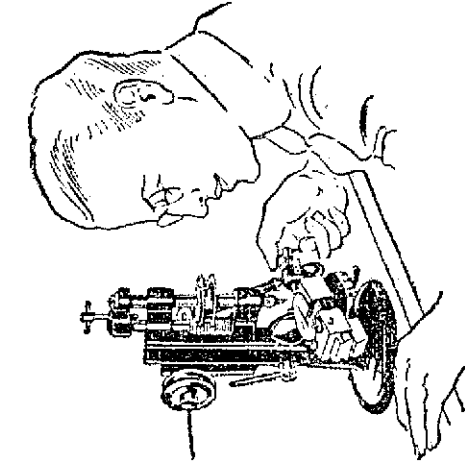

Hence our workshop on the premises. We found years ago that we could not give our customers the prompt service and guaranteed accuracy to which they were entitled if we had to depend on some outsider to make the glasses. There were daily mistakes and delays that were simply unavoidable.

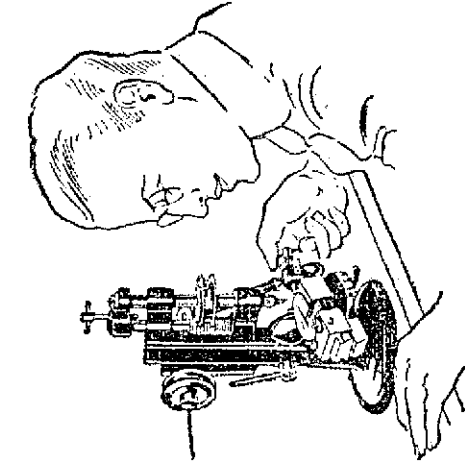

This little machine is used in cutting lenses to any desired shape and size. The cutting is accomplished with a diamond set in the machine.

With this instrument the operator locates the optical center of the lens and also marks the axis of the cylinder, if any. It is also employed to check the accuracy of every completed pair of glasses. We call it the "policeman" of the shop.

The holes for use in setting the lenses in eyeglass or spectacle mountings are smoothly and accurately bored by this diamond drill.

After the lenses have been cut to approximately the desired shape and size they are placed in one of these automatic edging machines and ground to accurate shape, with smooth, even edges.

WE have one of the best mechanically equipped optical workshops in this section. In this shop we are able to manufacture from the rough glass even the most complicated lenses in a few hours at the longest. Every operation is under our personal supervision and we are not only able to promise your glasses at a definite time but also to guarantee that when you get them they'll be just exactly RIGHT.

An accurate examination of the eyes is of course the first essential. We make these examinations by the most approved scientific method, grind the lenses and adjust the finished glasses to your face, all in the same day if desired. We also fill Oculists' prescriptions and can duplicate your present glasses when required.

Just try out this claim of Quick Service at the next opportunity.

I am willing, no matter what my personal fortunes may be, to play for the verdict of mankind. Personally, it will be a matter of indifference to me what the verdict on the 7th of November is, provided I feel any degree of confidence that when a later jury sits, I shall get their judgment in my favor. Not in my favor personally—what difference does that make?—but in my favor as an honest and conscientious spokesman of a great nation.

—WOODROW WILSON.

The relation between good roads and prosperity is closer than some people think. The subject is suggested by the observations given us of a man who has traveled about the country coast to coast this summer, and observed social and economic conditions. He spoke particularly of one section with which he is formerly familiar, and which some years ago was noteworthy for agricultural prosperity and had some vague as a summer resort.

This summer the farms seemed less well cultivated than formerly. Where there was once an abundance of field crops, now more land was given over to mere pasturage. There were a good many vacant houses.

From nearly all his informants he got the impression that the condition of the roads had something to do with it. It appears that in this section little has been done at highway improvement. In a belated way, a few of the main lines of travel have now been improved. But the cross country roads are almost in a state of nature. In dry weather they are heaps of pulverized dust, in wet weather slough where an automobile would go in almost to the hubs.

Apparently the people who used to come for summer rest to this section now own automobiles. They have become disgusted with a region that gives them so unsatisfactory a chance to use their motors. The farmers have to haul produce to railroads over rough and rutty roads that often are nearly impassible. Even when the weather is favorable the trucking takes a long time. At the present high cost of farm help, it is a big charge on their production. There is a lesson in this for all who begrudge highway taxes. A section that is not improving its roads as rapidly as the rest of the country is getting to be as badly off as a district without any railroads.

JAMES P. HARTMAN DEAD.

Well Known Carpenter and Old Resident of County Succumbs to Long Illness.

James P. Hartman, who was numbered among the old residents of the county and who for many years followed the vocation of carpenter, died at his home, 815 Ellis street, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hartman had been in poor health for a number of years and his affliction was finally diagnosed as gall stones. He was in bed, however, only since last Thursday and his death came with an element of suddenness.

The deceased was a native of New York state and was 62 years of age last January 29. When he was a boy he accompanied his parents to Wisconsin and his youth was spent on a farm in Waupaca county. He was married there forty years ago to Miss Margaret Leary and shortly afterward they took up their residence on a farm in the town of Stockton. During the past eighteen years this city has been the family home.

As a carpenter Mr. Hartman was employed in the construction of many of the older buildings of this county and he continued work in this and other lines until ill health forced his retirement. Although of quiet disposition, he formed many acquaintances and was highly regarded by his friends.

Besides the widow, the deceased leaves seven children: Mrs. Adelbert Reinhardt, city; Mrs. George Gibbs, Stockton; Mrs. Charles Beedle, Rothschild, and John, Truman, Walter and Irene, city. He also leaves a brother, W. A. Hartman, of Waupaca county, and a sister, Mrs. Al. Barrington, of Payette, Idaho.

All of the children, with the exception of the son, John, who is temporarily in the west, are here for the funeral, which will be held from St. Stephen's Catholic church at 9 o'clock Thursday morning. Rev. W. J. Rice officiating. Burial will be in the parish cemetery.

LOCAL MAN PAROLED.

Peter Pliske, who had been serving a two years' sentence in the state prison at Waupun, for abandonment, has been paroled and has returned home. Pliske has five children, who have been receiving aid from the city. He has secured work here and will be given every opportunity to make good. The application for his parole was made by T. H. Hanna to the state board, and Pliske was paroled to Mr. Hanna.

LEFT LARGE ESTATE.

The will of the late Hans P. Johnson of Nelsonville, which has been filed for probate, is one of the largest recorded in the county in months. It represents property of the estimated value of $300,000, which consists of real estate in Nelsonville and New Hope and personal property. The legatees are the seven children of the deceased, five sons and two daughters, and all will share alike, except that allowances will be made for ante-mortem gifts to two of the sons, Ludwig and Theodore Johnson, two of the sons, are named as executors. L. J. N. Murat is their attorney.

AFTER MEN FOR NAVY.

Temporary Recruiting Station to be Opened in Stevens Point Soon.

C. W. Mezley, boatswain's mate, from the navy recruiting station, 222 Grand avenue, Milwaukee, is in Stevens Point, for the purpose of opening up a temporary recruiting station at the postoffice on September 6, 7 and 8, to examine and enlist men for the United States navy.

Mr. Mezley says: "This method of recruiting is not meant to give the impression that the navy is in need of men, for as a matter of fact the navy usually has men in excess of the complement allowed by congress. But there are many fine young men throughout the outlying cities that do not know of the splendid opportunities offered in the navy, and who, if they did, might enlist. That the navy is one of the most popular branches of our military service is shown by the fact that over 85 per cent of the men honorably discharged and recommended for re-enlistment do re-enlist."

An examining officer from Milwaukee will have charge of the local recruiting.

Industrial Independence!

The "Industrial Independence Company" that did business in New York on a promise of 300 per cent profit went to the wall recently. The wonder is that there were enough dupes to keep it going for nearly a year.

There is nothing in the world of practical things so important to you as "industrial independence." It is the big thought and purpose in your life. But industrial independence does not come out of the cornucopia of chance. It is yours—not for the asking but the striving. The great feature in that trinity of planning, working, saving, is the CARE OF SAVINGS. Their intelligent and safe investment in some strong bank like this where they are put to work for and with you, adding their reasonable earnings to yours, and principal and interest yours to command. Industrial Independence is financial independence. It is the slow growth of well directed effort, the consummation of character strengthening purpose. We want to discuss with you the care and keeping of the dollar that leads to Independence.

THE TEST THAT TELLS

IS THE TEST OF TIME. MANY STEVENS POINT PEOPLE HAVE MADE THIS TEST.

Years ago this Stevens Point citizen told in a public statement, the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills. The statement is now confirmed—the testimony complete. Instances like this are numerous. They doubly prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills. Can any Stevens Point reader demand more convincing proof? It's Stevens Point testimony—it may be investigated.

Charles H. Curtis, 711 Church St., Stevens Point, says: "I suffered from pain in the small of my back and could hardly get around. It was all I could do to get out of bed and dress myself in the morning. I hardly knew what ailed me, but finally concluded that my kidneys were weak. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills from Taylor Bros' drug store and they acted promptly in relieving me." (Statement given September 1, 1908.)

HAS USED DOAN'S SINCE.

Over four years later, Mr. Curtis said: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills off and on since giving my former endorsement and have always found that they do their work satisfactorily. I have heard of others who have been greatly helped by them."

Price 50 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Curtis has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

The PRINCE of GRAUSTARK BY GEORGE BARR M'CUTCHEON Copyright, 1914, by Dodd, Mead and Company.

SYNOPSIS Mr. Blithers, multimillionaire, discusses with his wife the possibilities of marrying off his daughter, Maud Applegate, to the Prince of Graustark, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Truxton King in America in anticipation of getting some one to take up the loan Russia holds. A Mr. Scoville is attentive to Maud.

Prince Robin is accompanied by Count Quinnox, minister of war; Lieutenant Dank and Hobbs, the valet. The prince had balked at a matrimonial alliance with the Princess of Dawbergen, both of them wishing to choose for themselves. Mr. Blithers visits the Kings uninvited.

Mr. Blithers discusses the Russian loan and gently hints at $20,000,000 his daughter will get when she marries the right man. Count Quinnox suddenly refuses to handle the loan. Count Quinnox and King arrange a meeting with Blithers. King suspects him of blocking the deal.

Blithers promises to consider the loan. His wife prepares a ball for the Prince and Maud, who suddenly balks at the affair and doesn't attend.

Meeting the prince out for a stroll, Blithers chats on matrimony. Robin says he is not for sale, but agrees to meet Maud when he learns she is opposed to her parents' wishes.

Maud again evades the prince, who reports he must leave for Graustark at once. Maud writes she is off for Europe on the Jupiter with an aged companion. Her father schemes to get them both on the same ship.

THE PRINCE as Mr. Schmidt sails on the Jupiter. Blithers buys $20,000,000 of Graustark bonds. A young lady dispatches Robin's right to a table and desk chair.

He learns she is Miss Guile of New York, and her aged companion Mrs. Gaston. He soon becomes better acquainted with Miss Guile.

Her given name is Bedelia, she tells him. She tells Mrs. Gaston that she suspects he is the Prince of Graustark.

Mrs. Gaston changes her manner toward him. Hobbs discovers Miss Guile's baggage is marked with a B. In Paris she is met by a young man.

Gourou, Robin's police chief, concludes that the B on the baggage means Blithers. Miss Blithers denies her engagement to the prince. Bedelia sends Robin a note.

She invites him for a drive to St. Cloud. He intimates she is Miss Blithers, but she resents it. While at lunch they are told some one is spying on them.

They flee and are arrested for speeding. Miss Guile just escaping revealing her true identity to the judge. She tells Robin she will go to Switzerland.

Mr. Blithers sails for Paris. He instructs his agents to kidnap Maud, but she is not to be located.

CHAPTER XVI. A Word of Encouragement. ONE usually has breakfast on the porch of the Hotel Schweizerhof at Interlaken. It is not the most fashionable hostelry in the quaint little town at the head of the lake of Thun, but it is of an excellent character, and the rolls and honey to be had with one's breakfast cannot be surpassed in the Bernese Oberland.

R. Schmidt sat facing the dejected Boske Dank. His eyes were dancing with the joy of living.

"Well, here we are, and, in spite of that, where are we?" said Dank, who saw nothing beautiful in the smile of any early morn. "I mean to say, what have we to show for our pains? We sneak into this God forsaken hamlet, surrounded on all sides by abominations in the shape of tourists, and at the end of twenty-four hours we discover that the fair Miss Guile has played us a shabby trick. I daresay she is laughing herself sick over the whole business."

"Which is more than you can say for yourself, Boske," said Robin blithely. "Brace up! All is not lost. We'll wait here a day or two longer and then—"

"Hello, who is this approaching? It is no other than the great Gourou himself, the king of sleuths, as they say in the books I used to read. Good morning, baron."

The sharp visaged little minister of police came up to the table and fixed an accusing eye upon his sovereign—the literal truth, for he had the other eye closed in a protracted wink.

"I regret to inform your majesty that the enemy is upon us," he said. "I fear that our retreat is cut off. Nothing remains save—"

"Where is she?" demanded Robin, unimpressed by this glowing panegyric.

"At this instant, sir, I fancy she is rallying her forces in the very face of a helpless mirror. In other words, she is preparing for the fray. She is dressing."

"When did she arrive?"

"She came last night via Milan."

Gavasko

"Where is she?" demanded Robin.

He us, curse us or anything you like, but still we shall remain true to the duty we owe to our country. We stay here, Prince Robin, just so long as you are content to remain."

Robin's face was very red. "You shame me, baron," he said simply.

"Now, I have a suggestion of my own to offer," said the baron, taking a seat at the end of the table. "I confess that Miss Guile may not be favorably impressed by the constant attendance of three abbeodded nurses, and, as she happens to be no fool, it is reasonably certain that she will grasp the significance of our assiduity. Now I propose that the count, Dank and myself efface ourselves as completely as possible during the rest of our enforced stay in Interlaken. I propose that we take quarters in another hotel and leave you and Hobbs to the tender mercies of the enemy. It seems to me that—"

"Good!" cried Robin. "That's the ticket! I quite agree to that, baron."

Ten o'clock found the three gentlemen—so classified by Hobbs—out of the Schweizerhof and arranging for accommodations at the Regina Hotel Jungfraublick.

He was somewhat puzzled by the strange submissiveness of his companions. Deep down in his mind lurked the disquieting suspicion that they were conniving to get the better of the lovely temptress by some sly and secret bit of strategy. What had become of their anxiety, their eagerness to drag him off to Graustark by the first train?

Enlightenment came unexpectedly and with a shock to his composure. Two people emerged from the door and, passing by without so much as a glance in his direction, made their way to the mounting block. Robin's heart went down to his boots. Bedelia, a graceful figure in a smart riding habit, was laughing blithely over a soft spoken remark that her companion had made as they were crossing the porch. And that companion was no other than the tall, good looking fellow who had met her at Cherboung: The prince, stunned and incredulous, watched them mount their horses and canter away, followed by a groom who seemed to have sprung up from nowhere.

"Good morning, Mr. Schmidt," spoke a voice, and, still bewildered, he whirled, hat in hand, to confront Mrs. Gaston. "Did I startle you?"

He bowed stiffly over the hand she held out for him to clasp and murmured something about being proof against any surprise.

"Isn't it a glorious morning? And how wonderful she is in this gorgeous sunlight," went on Mrs. Gaston, in what may be described as a hurried, nervous manner.

"I had the briefest glimpse of her," mumbled Robin. "When did she come?"

"Centuries and centuries ago, Mr. Schmidt," said she, with a smile. "I was speaking of the Jungfrau."

"Oh!" he exclaimed, flushing. "I thought you—er—yes, of course! Really quite wonderful."

"Your mind has gone horseback riding, I fear. At present it is between here and Lauterbrunnen, joggling beside that roaring little torrent that—"

"I don't mind confessing that you are quite right," he said frankly. "You are in love."

"I am," he confessed. She laid her hand upon his. Her eyes were wide with eagerness. "Would it drive away the blues if I were to tell you that you have a chance to win her?"

He felt his head spinning. "If—I could believe that—that!" he began and choked up with the rush of emotion that swept through him.

"She is a strange girl. She will marry for love alone. Her father is determined that she shall marry a royal prince. That much I may confess to you. She has defied her father, Mr. Schmidt. She will marry for love, and I believe it is in your power to awaken love in that adorable heart of hers. You—"

"For God's sake, Mrs. Gaston, tell me—tell me, has she breathed a word to you that—"

"Not a single word. But I know her well. I have known her since she was a baby, and I can read the soul that looks out through those lovely eyes."

"But you—you don't know anything about me. I may be the veriest adventurer. I must be honest with you, Mrs. Gaston," he said suddenly. "I am not!"

She held up her hand. "Mr. Totten has informed me that you are a lifelong friend of Mrs. Truxton King. I cabled to her from Paris. There is no more to be said."

His face fell. "Did she tell you—everything?"

"She said no more than that R. Schmidt is the finest boy in all the world." Suddenly her face paled. "You are never—never to breathe a word of this—to Bedelia," she whispered.

"But her father? What will he say to—"

"Her father has said all that can be said," she broke in quietly. "He cannot force her to marry the man he has selected. She will marry the man she loves."

"Thank you, thank you, Mrs. Gaston," he cried, with shining eyes. "God bless you!"

Night came and with it the silvery glow of moonlight across the hoary headed queen of the Oberland. When Robin came out from dinner he seated himself on the porch, expectant, eager—and vastly lonesome.

She came at last—and alone. Stopping at the rail not more than an arm's length from where he sat, she gazed pensively up at the solemn mistress of the valley, one slim hand at her bosom, the other hanging limp at her side. He was in thralldom. "Bedelia!" he whispered softly.

She turned quickly, to find him standing beside her, his face aglow with rapture. A quick catch of the breath, a sudden movement of the hand that lay upon her breast and then she smiled—a wavering, uncertain smile that went straight to his heart and shamed him for startling her. "I beg your pardon," he began lamely. "I—I startled you."

She held out her hand to him, still smiling. "I fear I shall never become accustomed to being pursued," she said, striving for command of her voice. "It is dreadful to feel that some one is forever watching you from behind. I am glad it is you, however. You at least are not 'the secret eye that never sleeps.'" She gently withdrew her hand from his ardent clasp. "Mrs. Gaston told me that she had seen you. I feared that you might have gone on your way rejoicing."

"Rejoicing?" he cried. "Why do you say that?"

"After our experience in Paris I should think that you had had enough of me and my faithful watchdogs."

"Then you are being followed?"

She smiled again, and there was mischief in her eye. "If so I have led them a merry chase. We have been traveling for two days and nights, Mr. Schmidt, by train and motor, getting off at stations unexpectedly, hopping into trains going in any direction but the right one, sleeping in strange beds and doing all manner of queer things."

"I see that your retinue has been substantially augmented," he remarked, a trace of jealousy in his voice. "The good looking Mr. White has not been eluded."

"Mr. White? Oh, yes, I see. But he is to be trusted, Mr. Schmidt," she said mysteriously—and tantalizingly. "He will not betray me to my cruel monster of a father."

"I saw you this morning riding with him," said he glumly.

She turned her face away and for a moment was silent. "Shall we take those chairs over there, Mr. Schmidt?" they appear to be abandoned as we."

She indicated two chairs near the broad portals. He shook his head. "If we are looking for the most utterly abandoned allow me to call your attention to the two in yonder corner."

those chairs over there, Mr. Schmidt? They appear to be abandoned as we."

He shook his head. "If we are looking for the most utterly abandoned allow me to call your attention to the two in yonder corner."

"It is quite dark over there," she said with a frown.

"Quite," he agreed. "Which accounts, no doubt, for your failure to see them."

"Mrs. Gaston will be looking for me before"—she began hesitatingly.

"Or Mr. White, perhaps. Let me remind you that they have exceedingly sharp eyes."

"Mr. White is no longer here," she announced.

His heart leaped. "Then I, at least, have nothing to fear," he said quickly.

She ignored the banality. "He left this afternoon. Very well, let us take the seats over there. I rather like the—shall I say shadows?"

"Now, tell me everything," he said. "From beginning to end. What became of you after that day at St. Cloud, whither have you journeyed, and wherefore were you so bent on coming to this now blessed Interlaken?"

"Easily answered. Nothing at all became of me. I journeyed thither, and I came because I had set my heart on seeing the Jungfrau."

"But you had seen it many times."

"And I hoped that I might find peace and quiet here," she added quite distinctly.

"You expected to find me here, didn't you?"

"Yes, but I did not regard you as a disturber of the peace."

"You knew I would come, but you didn't know why, did you, Bedelia?" He leaned a little closer.

"Yes, I knew why," she said calmly, emotionlessly. He drew back instantly, chilled by her directness. "You came because there was promise of an interesting adventure, which you now are on the point of making impossible by a rather rash exhibition of haste."

He stared at her shadowy face in utter confusion. For a moment he was speechless. Then a rush of protesting sincerity surged up within him, and he cried out in low, intense tones: "I cannot allow you to think that of me, Miss Guile. If I have done or said anything to lead you to believe that I am—"

She laughed joyously, naturally. "You really are quite wonderful, Mr. Schmidt. Still I must change the subject. I trust the change will not affect your glibness, for it is quite exhilarating. How long do you purpose remaining in Interlaken?"

"That isn't changing the subject," said he. "I shall be here for a week or ten days—or perhaps longer?" He put it in the form of a question, after all.

"Indeed? How I envy you. I am sorry to say I shall have to leave in a day or two."

His face fell. "Why?" he demanded, almost indignantly.

"I am having such a good time disobeying my father, Mr. Schmidt, and eluding pursuers. It is only a matter of a day or two before I am discovered here, so I mean to keep on dodging. It is splendid fun."

"Do you mind telling me where you are going to, Miss Guile?"

"First to Vienna, then—well, you cannot guess where. I have decided to go to Edelweiss."

"Edelweiss!" he exclaimed in astonishment. He could hardly believe his ears.

"It is the very last place in the world that my father would think of looking for me. Besides, I am curious to see the place. I understand that the great Mr. Blithers is to be there soon, and the stupid prince who will not be tempted by millions, and it is even possible that the extraordinary Miss Blithers may take it into her head to look the place over before definitely refusing to be its princess. I may find some amusement or entertainment as an onlooker when the riots begin."

He was staring at her wide eyed and incredulous. "Do you really mean to say you are going to Graustark?"

"I have thought of doing so. Don't you think it will be amusing to be on the scene when the grand climax occurs?"

All this time she was regarding him through amused, half closed eyes. She had a distinct advantage over him. She knew that he was the Prince of Graustark; she had known it for many days. Perhaps if she had known all the things that were in his cunning brain she would not have ventured so far into the comedy she was constructing. She would have hesitated—aye, she might have changed her methods completely. But she was in the mood to do and say daring things.

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS of INTEREST

Mrs. W. G. Bate is entertaining the Dizzy Dozen club this afternoon.

Mrs. P. B. Rivers was hostess to the Wahp-si-pin-ne-kan club at her home, 309 Central avenue, last evening.

Misses Ellida Moen and Margaret Clifford entertained the Fortnightly club at the home of the former last Saturday afternoon.

The Misses Marie McCallum and Violet Fisher entertained 18 young ladies at the latter's home on Monroe street last evening at a towel-shower in honor of Miss Lorraine Marvin, who is to be a September bride.

The annual picnic of the Harmonia society of St. Peter's church was held on the river bank near Second Island Sunday and was largely attended. The picnickers were taken up and back in J. J. Bukolt's launch. A dinner was served and amusements of various sorts indulged in, while music was furnished by the society's band.

Miss Katherine Urbanowski, Rose Poplicki, Marie Koss, Mary Skalski and Marie Ciecholinski, the latter of Marquette, Mich., were guests at a dinner party at the home of Mrs. Frank Strykowski at Junction City last evening. Mrs. Strykowski was formerly Miss Nellie Kowalski of this city.

Mrs. Guy Nash was hostess to twenty-one members of the Grand Rapids Travel Class at her home on Pine street, last Thursday afternoon, the visitors motoring to this city, and after a short business meeting, the club became informal and enjoyed a picnic supper. Miss M. Phena Baker, who was Mrs. Nash's guest, favored the club with a number of solos. Other guests of the club were Mrs. Nash's mother, Mrs. Isabelle Phillo of Grand Rapids, and Mrs. F. E. Walbridge of this city.

J. M. Coyner, Portage county's agricultural representative, left here this morning, his ultimate destination being his old home town, Lyndon, Ohio, and when he returns the last of next week he will be accompanied by another native of the Buckeye state. To make a long story short, Mr. Coyner is to be married, and his bride-to-be is a Lyndon girl, Miss Ruth Smalley, whom he has known since childhood.

The marriage ceremony will take place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Smalley, at Lyndon, at 8 o'clock in the evening of Wednesday, August 23, and a cousin of the bride, Dr. Robert Caldwell, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Spencer, N. Y., will officiate. Among the guests will be Dr. John Williams, president of Nanking University, Nanking, China, who is spending a year in this country. Dr. Williams is an uncle of the bride.

A dinner will be served after the ceremony and following this Mr. and Mrs. Coyner will come to Stevens Point, via Cincinnati and Chicago. They expect to arrive here on Aug. 25 and will be at home at the residence of Mrs. Owen Clark, 441 Church street.

Miss Smalley is a graduate of Western seminary at Oxford, Ohio, and has been instructor of German in the high school at Napoleon, Ohio. Mr. Coyner, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Coyner, reside in Lyndon, is a graduate of Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, and a graduate student of the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture. He taught chemistry in the high school at Mansfield, Ohio, one year and for nearly three years was teacher of agriculture in Buffalo county, this state, while a member of the faculty of the Mondovi high school. He came here on March 4 to fill the newly created position of agricultural representative.

Mr. Coyner, through environment, disposition and training, is thoroughly conversant with practically all phases of the farming industry and his ability is supplemented by a natural inclination toward hard work. In the few months he has been in Portage county he has accomplished so much for the community in general and for individual residents that any attempt at enumeration would be futile. He has demonstrated the worth of the agricultural expert and in so doing has, by his earnestness, enthusiasm and fine character, won the friendship of scores of county people. A warm welcome awaits him and his bride.

An arbor of ferns and palms, effectively arranged in the parlor of the home of District Attorney and Mrs. W. F. Owen, 723 Ellis street, was the setting for an interesting wedding that occurred there at high noon today. Their daughter, Miss Elizabeth, was the bride, and the groom was Leo W. Ellertsen, a former resident of this city, now of Seattle, Wash. The Presbyterian single ring service was conducted by Rev. John A. Stemen. Little Miss Jeanne Owen, a sister of the bride, was the flower girl and the only attendant.

Miss Owen's gown was of white lace and net, and the flower girl was also attired in white and carried a basket of yellow rose buds. Miss Winnie Sustine, as a prelude to the ceremony, sang "I Love You Truly," and "O Promise Me," with piano accompaniment by Miss Jennie Johnson.

The latter played the wedding march, from Mendelssohn.

Dinner was served in the Owen home to about thirty-five guests, including the following from out of town: Mr. and Mrs. George Blackford and two sons, Harold and George, Milwaukee; Miss Mabelle Rowland, Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Kennedy, Janesville; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne W. Owen and daughter, Margaret, Boyceville; Miss Edna Gerth, Hancock; Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Webster, Amherst; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Webster and daughter, Elizabeth; Mrs. C. E. Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beggs and Mrs. J. N. Webster, Almond; John Gustin and daughters, Nellie and Ada, Plainfield; Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Gustin, Bancroft. The Misses Anna Virum, Edna Gerth, Minnie Sustins, Nellie Gustin, Florence Gehring and Jennie Johnson assisted in serving.

The house decorations were in yellow and were featured by baskets of golden glow and nasturtiums. Yellow roses adorned the tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellertsen left during the afternoon on a short trip, their destination being kept secret, and will return here the last of the week, to remain a day or two, after which they will leave for the west. They will be at home in Seattle after October 1.

The bride of today is a graduate of the Stevens Point Normal, class of 1917, and has taught in Menomonie, St. Croix and, during the past year, at Ladysmith. Mr. Ellertsen is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Ellertsen, who for a long period made this city their home. J. C. Ellertsen was for twenty years miller at the Jackson Milling Co.'s plant here and also built the Springfield roller mill in company with E. H. Rossier, the present owner, under the firm name of Rossier & Ellertsen. The groom has for seven years held a position in the finance division of the Seattle postoffice.

The blessings of their Stevens Point and Portage county friends will attend this worthy young couple on their journey through life.

A very pretty double wedding was solemnized at the Swedish church in the town of Sigel, Wood county, this afternoon at 3 o'clock, when Seth Whitman, a former Rudolph boy, was united in marriage to Miss Jennie Larsen of Sigel, by Rev. Rocksproch of Grand Rapids. They were attended by Carl Marthers of Grand Rapids as best man and Miss Lona Larsen as bridesmaid.

The other couple, Edward Kronholm and Miss Mary Larsen, were married at the same hour by Rev. Nordling of Grand Rapids and their attendants were Axel Anderson as best man and Miss Ina Kronholm as bridesmaid. The flower girls were Edna Larsen and Mathilda Anderson and the ring bearers were Harold Larsen and Stylnon Arndquist of Crenville, S. D.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. J. A. Jackson of Rudolph. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being pink and white with evergreens. After the wedding ceremony the bridal party, including about twenty invited guests, went to the home of the brides' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jens Larsen in Sigel, where a reception was held and a six course dinner served. This evening a wedding dance will be given to their many friends in the local hall at Rudolph, which a large crowd is expected to attend. Among the out of town guests are Mrs. W. B. Arndquist and son, Stylnon of Crenville, S. D., Mrs. Arndquist being a sister of Mr. Whitman, and Mrs. Larsen and Miss Lona Larsen of Minneapolis, the latter being a brother of the brides.

A wedding ceremony that united Fred W. Ambrose, youngest son of Mrs. John Ambrose of this city, and Miss Minabelle Coggeshall of Sugar City, Col., was performed by Rev. Fr. Boseth at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception at Denver, Col., at 9 o'clock this morning. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coggeshall of Sugar City, the former a brother of the bride, were the attendants.

The wedding was quiet and shortly afterward Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose and Mr. and Mrs. Coggeshall left for Estes National Park in Colorado, where they will spend a week or more at Saint's Rest cottage. The newly married couple will be at home in Casper, Wyoming, after Sept. 10.

To Stevens Point friends Mr. Ambrose's wedding comes as a surprise, as he departed from here only a few days ago on what he said was a "vacation trip." Only the members of his immediate family were aware of the real object of his trip.

Mr. Ambrose has lived in Stevens Point practically all of his life and, after completing the course at St. Stephen's parochial school, graduated from the Stevens Point Normal in 1911. He also took special work at Stout Institute, Menomonie, Wis. He taught for two years at Mt. Horeb and for a similar period at Antigo. During the 1915-16 year he served as supervisor of manual arts in the city schools of Casper, Wyo., and has been re-engaged for the coming year. He is a young man of exceptional ability, strong character and engaging personality, and many personal friends in Stevens Point are interested in his future success and happiness. His bride is a graduate of Ypsilanti University of Ypsilanti, Mich., department of music, and also of Northwestern University of Evanston, Ill. During the past two years she was supervisor of music in the Livingston, Mont., schools and before that supervised music in the Antigo, Wis., schools for one year, when her acquaintance with Mr. Ambrose began. Miss Coggeshall visited here for six weeks last summer and those who met her at that time are confident that Mr. Ambrose exercised his best judgment in his choice of a wife.

It only takes a little "running around" to convince a person that Stevens Point is just about the best little city in Wisconsin. Try it sometime, yourself.

BIG DEAL COMPLETED

Illinois Man Purchases 800 Acre Ranch in Buena Vista and Will Have Stock Farm.

Ranch No. 1, in Buena Vista Meadows, 800 acres, changed hands yesterday. The new owner, Fred Baker from southern Illinois, will take possession March 1. He exchanged his high priced Illinois lands for this ranch in order to enlarge his cattle business and make room for his four sons, who are growing up and will soon want farms of their own.

Mr. Baker has made a careful inspection of central Wisconsin, taking time to see and learn about the stock business here. He considers the conditions in Buena Vista the best he has ever seen for the cattle business.

He will bring with him his herd of full blood Durhams and enlarge his business here. The Ranch is already well equipped for handling stock, but he will add to this equipment, and eventually make four farms with modern equipment.

Mr. Baker was told about the crop failures and law suits and claims that the lands in Buena Vista are not fertile and grain will not fill. He satisfied himself, however, that the fault is not in the soil. The crops on the ground, the hay in the stack, the condition of cattle and the fresh green pastures at a time when his own are brown, told him more than rumor, and spoke a language he understands.

Mr. Baker is also an admirer of our climate, and is glad to bring his family here to make their permanent home.

ENTERS INSURANCE WORK.

Miss Margaret Clifford, whose resignation as principal of the Second ward school was given to the board of education at last Monday evening's meeting, severs her connection with the schools to take up life insurance work.

For the past three or four months Miss Clifford has been engaged in this line of work, representing the New York Life Insurance Co., and has met with signal success, and because this line of endeavor offers more permanent employment and greater financial returns, Miss Clifford decided to continue it. Her territory covers the whole state, but her headquarters will be in the city. Her father, the late Michael Clifford, also represented the New York Life for several years before his death, and the family's large acquaintance through the state will be an asset, which, together with Miss Clifford's natural pleasing characteristics, will contribute to her success. While her resignation will be a loss to the city schools, this step will undoubtedly result in material advancement for Miss Clifford.

GONE WITH BIG SUM

Frank Glenz, Popular Local Young Man, Disappears With Employer's Money and Watch.

The disappearance of $1,185 in cash and a watch valued at $18 from the jewelry store of E. A. Arenberg, 447 Main street, and the unceremonious departure of Frank Glenz, for nearly eight years a trusted employee of the establishment and a popular young man about the city, threw local residents into a state of mingled amazement and regret last week.

Glenz worked as usual on Wednesday, but did not put in an appearance at the customary time Thursday. Mr. Arenberg's suspicions were not aroused, however, until 4:20 o'clock that afternoon, when Glenz's continued absence led him to open the safe. Practically all of the money it contained was gone. Further investigation about the store revealed the fact that the watch, which was in one of the show cases, was the only article of jewelry missing, at least so far as can be determined. A number of costly diamonds that were in the safe were unmolested.

A warrant for Glenz's arrest was issued, but up to this time he has not been apprehended. It was learned that he went to Chicago on Soo line passenger train No. 18 early Thursday morning. C. B. Baker of this city was the conductor on the train and chatted with Glenz as the train neared Chicago and after it had pulled into the depot there. Authorities in a number of cities have been wired to be on the look-out for him, but so far no clue as to his course after arriving in Chicago has been found.

On Thursday a letter from Glenz, mailed in Chicago, enclosing $45 in currency was received by Mrs. E. G. Scott, proprietor of the private boarding house at 212 Strong's avenue, to whom he owed the amount for board. It is also stated that he recently put up a ring valued at $100, his personal property, as security for the payment of an account at a local clothing store. The account was much smaller than the value of the ring and the merchant accepted the security only because of the insistence of Glenz.

Glenz's old home was in Alpena, Mich., where his mother and other relatives now reside. He came here and began work as jeweler at the Arenberg store Nov. 1, 1908. In the workroom, where he spent most of his time during working hours, he proved industrious and competent, while as a salesman behind the counter he won business friends by his pleasant, accommodating manner. He mingled with the young set of the city in a social way, in fact was one of the leaders in this sphere, and by all was regarded as one worthy of any trust placed in him by his employer and other friends. What could have possessed him to commit the crime that has been fastened upon him is an enigma to his every acquaintance and general regret is expressed that he should stain his reputation and betray the confidence that had been imposed in him by Mr. Arenberg. Glenz had the combination of the safe and at times, during the absence of the proprietor, had full charge of the store, so unquestioned was his honesty.

HIRES UNION LABOR.

According to the Superior Telegram, the new Normal training school in that city will be built by union labor. J. L. Weinberg of Grand Rapids, who is building the Stevens Point Normal dormitory, also has the contract for the Superior building, and he is reported to have union men after a conference with school officials, representatives of the Superior Trades and Labor Assembly and others interested. The work on another Normal building at Superior was held up last week because of labor trouble. Mr. Weinberg hopes to have the foundation of the training school in before freeze-up and to build the superstructure in the spring.

MEETS SPUD GROWERS

President of State Potato Association Holds Conference With Portage County Farmers.

A series of field meetings was conducted in Portage county last week by J. W. Hicks of Prentice, president of the Wisconsin Potato Growers' association, and J. M. Coyner, county agricultural agent. Mr. Hicks arrived in the county Tuesday and was busy until Sunday, when he left for Neenah on a similar mission.

The field potato meetings are supplementary to the regular institutes conducted periodically under the auspices of the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture and are being held in various parts of the state. Methods of planting, cultivation, treatment for disease and bugs and other phases of the industry are dealt with in the most practical manner possible, and the lessons are brought home in a way that could not otherwise be accomplished. By observing actual conditions and discussing the various problems, helpful suggestions are brought out and advice applicable to the individual needs is given.

Mr. Hicks visited various localities, including farms in the towns of Amherst, Almond and Buena Vista, and was everywhere well received, his reputation having evidently preceded him. He stated that the season has been a discouraging one to potato interests and that early varieties were practically ruined by sun scald and bugs, which also seriously affected the later plants. The production of the late varieties, according to Mr. Hicks, will be about one-third below the average in Portage county. In some fields the vines are literally burned up by the heat, a condition that has been wrongly attributed to blight, and in other places the stalks have been stripped of leaves by the insect pest, which has been the worst in years. Mr. Hicks said that blight has hardly appeared in Wisconsin this year.

A field of 40 acres of potatoes of several varieties, owned by William Scribner in the town of Buena Vista, is declared by Mr. Hicks to be the finest he has seen in Wisconsin this year. The vines are strong, Mr. Scribner's method of cultivation is excellent and there is hardly a hill in the big patch that will not yield, according to present indications.

Mr. Hicks, a president of the Wisconsin Potato Growers' association, is working for the whole state, to the end that Wisconsin potatoes will become of such high standard that they will hold a market advantage over those of other states. Already great credit has been accomplished and the activity in Portage county this year is highly encouraging. One variety of potatoes that has been grown largely in this locality is the "late pride," a species that has little or no demand as eating stock. They are sold for eating, but only to people who are unfamiliar with them, and their cultivation is a hindrance to the industry in Wisconsin. This year, according to Mr. Hicks, late prizes have been hit the hardest of all varieties, and he is hopeful that this fact will influence growers to discard them in favor of varieties for which there is general demand. Rural New Yorkers, Mr. Hicks said, do well in Portage county, even better than the Green Mountains, for which the present season, owing to the extreme hot weather, has not been as favorable.

The field meetings were designed to "follow up" the institutes held in the county last winter and spring, and Mr. Hicks stated that he hopes to have more of the outdoor conferences at harvest time.

TEAM RUNS AWAY.

An exciting runaway took place on the public square last Thursday afternoon, when a farmer's team standing in front of the Fleet grocery store became frightened when another rig was unintentionally backed against them and made a short but spirited dash. The horses started suddenly and broke the wagon tongue, which dragged along the pavement, and were brought in check in the corner at the rear of the Krembs hardware store. The owner, John Armatowski, and son of Custer were thrown out and bruised and the damage to the wagon amounted to $6. The driver of the vehicle that backed into the runaway team gave Mr. Armatowski $3 in settlement and everybody was satisfied.

BARNESDALE WILL LIVE

Superior Physician, Who was Shot Last Week, Expected to Survive His Wounds.

Dr. J. C. Barnesdale, who was shot four times by Miss Helen Stewart, a teacher, at Superior on Tuesday afternoon of last week, will recover unless unlookedfor complications develop. This is the statement of attending physicians and nurses, who are of the opinion that the crisis in his condition was past Saturday.

Miss Stewart continues her silence at the county jail and is in seclusion except from members of her family and her attorney. As soon as the condition of Dr. Barnesdale is settled, a definite charge will be made against Miss Stewart and she will be arraigned in court.

On Thursday of last week it was discovered that Miss Stewart had been secretly married more than a year ago to G. Milward Smith, a young man who is employed in the Board of Trade in Duluth. They were married at Virginia, Minn., on July 17, 1915, by a justice of the peace. It is also stated that Smith left her a few days after the ceremony and that since last November he has not even seen her.

The following paragraphs are from the Superior Telegram of last Thursday evening:

"The doctor's wife has been almost constantly at his bedside since the shooting occurred. She was summoned to the office by the doctor himself and hurried there at once. She went to the hospital with him in the ambulance and has refused to leave since then, caring for the injured man's wants herself and watching over him."

"After summoning his wife and sending someone for Dr. Goodfellow immediately after he was shot, Dr. Barnesdale became frightened that he might die before help could reach him and, going to his desk, wrote the name and address of Miss Stewart on a slip of paper that there would be no trouble in locating his assailant. This paper was found in the office after he had been taken to the hospital."

"Miss Stewart has not made any statement of her motive for the shooting other than that of alleged 'mistreatment,' which she stated to be the cause to the police immediately following her arrest."

Walter Barnesdale of Plover, this county, a brother of the doctor, went to Superior last Wednesday night, accompanied by his wife, and remained until Friday night. Their son, George, also went to Superior Thursday night and returned home Saturday night. The latter brought encouraging news from the doctor in attendance, who stated that his condition continues to improve and as previously noted, that the danger was apparently past.

LICENSE NEW BARBERS.

A. N. Berens of this city, secretary of the state board of barbers' examiners, returned home Saturday morning from Milwaukee, where the board conducted examinations that resulted in the licensing of 56 master barbers. Fifty-nine applicants failed in the tests. Mr. Berens and the other members of the board were given some notoriety by the Milwaukee Journal last Wednesday, when a cartoon embracing a likeness of them, together with sketches depicting the funny side of their work, was published.

HUNTING LICENSES HERE.

County Clerk A. E. Bourn on Monday received a consignment of 1916 hunting licenses and No. 1 has been issued to John Smith of Pine Grove, whose application was received several days ago. The number of licenses disposed of in Portage county each year is nearly 2,500, for which the "ultimate consumer" pays $1 each. It is not expected that the demand will be heavy, however, until the approach of the prairie chicken and partridge season on Sept. 7. Partridge may be shot in most of the counties of the state, including Portage, from that date until October 31 and prairie chicken up to September 30.

PLOVER DEFEATS MISSIONS.

The Missions, with one more game to win to clinch the City League pennant, went down to defeat at the hands of the Plover aggregation at the village Sunday by a score of 5 to 3. Marx, pitching for the Missions, struck out 17 Ploverites, but his support was far below standard. Blanchard caught Marx and Lila and Pierce formed the Plover battery. The league game at the fair grounds Sunday resulted in a victory for the Continentals over the Macnishes, 10 to 5. The schedule will be completed with a double header on August 27. Next Sunday the Continentals play the Missions here and the Macnishes will oppose the Plover team at Plover.

OWNERSHIP IS RESTORED.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Klug regain possession of their farm in the town of Buena Vista from their son, Carl G. Klug, and wife, as a result of a circuit court decision by Judge B. B. Park last week. The elder Klugs, on December 28, 1912, entered into a contract with their son, by which they agreed to deed over the farm to him in consideration of his providing them with food, clothing and other necessities of life in stipulated amounts, medical attendance and other allowances. The contract, according to the complaint of the father and mother, was not filled, and in this they were sustained by the court. The defendants were allowed $455.25 for permanent improvements on the property, but this was nearly balanced by an award of $406.81 to the plaintiffs, leaving the defendant only $48.54, from which the disbursements were deducted.

UNDERWEAR COMPANY FAILS.

The Racine Underwear company, a former Stevens Point concern and which moved to Milwaukee about a year ago, has failed. The Milwaukee Sentinel of last Friday said: An involuntary bankruptcy petition was filed Thursday against the Racine Underwear company, 890, Twelfth street. The petitioning creditors are the Bender-Zimmer company, the W. H. Egan company and the Klau-van Pietersen-Dunlap company. It was alleged that the concern made a transfer of its plant on March 23, of this year, to Benjamin Scheffels, and did not record it until June.

PRISONER IS PARDONED.

Governor E. L. Philipp last week granted a pardon to Mrs. Caroline Patzer, the Waupaca county woman who was sentenced to nine years in the state prison for third degree murder, and her formal release from the penitentiary is expected within a few days. Mrs. Patzer has thirteen children and the governor, as requested by him, will receive assurances from them that they will care for their mother. Attorney W. E. Fisher of this city appeared before the governor at Madison last Wednesday and also had charge of the proceedings leading up to the application for the pardon.

JUDGE ON VACATION.

Judge B. B. Park has entered upon his annual vacation and expects to spend a part of the time between now and Sept. 18, when the first fall term of the circuit court opens at Waupaca, on an automobile and fishing trip in Shawano and Marinette counties with Giles H. Putnam of New London, district attorney of Waupaca county. They were to have started the first of the week, but the sudden illness of the four year old son of Mr. Putnam necessitated a postponement. The lad was taken ill while camping at Shawano lake and on being removed to New London the home was quarantined, infantile paralysis being suspected, but word since received here is to the effect that he is improving and that infantile paralysis was not the cause of his illness. Judge Park and Mr. Putnam plan on starting their trip the last of the week.

A SOAKING RAIN.

Electrical Storm Hits This Section Thursday—Some Damage is Done by Bolts.

An electric storm that loomed up with characteristics of a cyclone broke over Stevens Point and vicinity early last Thursday morning. Electric light and power and telephone service was interfered with and some other damage done by lightning, but this was more than offset by the benefit to crops from the heavy rainfall, which amounted to three-quarters of an inch.

During the storm a bolt of lightning struck the garage of Dr. F. A. Southwick at the rear of his residence on Church street and also spread to the residence. The garage was slightly damaged and a blaze started, but prompt action by Dr. Southwick extinguished it before the arrival of the fire department. The Southwick automobile, a new Hudson "super-six," was in the building, but was uninjured. In the residence a basement window was damaged and other minor damage done, including the burning out of the light equipment.

A bolt also descended on a tree near the residence of Steve Jurgella, 914 Fifth avenue, and then invaded the house, knocking down plaster and doing minor damage. No fire resulted and none of the occupants felt any ill effects from the discharge. The residence was struck once before, a number of years ago, when more serious damage was done, and Mr. Jurgella now carries insurance.

A MECHANICAL WONDER.

An improved model of the "Violano Virtuoso" or automatic violin has been installed in the Spot saloon. The machine, which replaces one that had been in the Spot for two or three years, blends the tones of two violins and a piano with harmony that would do justice to the most skilled musicians. Although mechanically played, the music produced has the shading of the human touch and presents a wide variety of selections. The machine, which is the third of its kind to be put into use in this country, was purchased through the Jacobs Novelty Co. of this city. It has a handsomely finished mahogany case and is as attractive to the eye as its music is appealing to the ear.

LOSE IN 14 INNINGS

Stevens Point Baseball Team Drops
Hard Fought Game to Stanley
Last Sunday.

The new Stevens Point baseball team went down to defeat at Stanley Sunday after 14 innings of red hot pasting, the final score being 3 to 2. Stevens Point had the Stanley aggregation shut out, 2 to 0, up to the eighth inning, when Stanley, mainly as a result of interference with Viertel, Stevens Point shortstop, carted two runs across the platter. The umpire allowed the runs, notwithstanding that the rules provide otherwise, so the contest went into extra innings. Stanley bunched hits in the fourteenth for the winning run.

Stevens Point scored its two runs in the second inning, when a series of bunts, five in number, completely bewildered the Stanley infield. Huston, third baseman, was out of the local lineup, necessitating a switch among the players. Harry Powell, the old Stevens Point favorite, was in center field and, despite the fact that he had not played before this year, put up a fine exhibition. A one handed running catch he executed was the fielding feature of the battle. Powell was on his way to Minneapolis on his vacation trip to Coloma and into the game as a courtesy to the team. Eagleburger, local pitcher, allowed 11 hits, while nine were thured off the delivery of Stratton, Stanley heaver.

The Stevens Point team will meet the strong Mosinee team at Mosinee next Sunday.

RECOMMENDS A PAROLE.

Governor E. L. Philipp at Madison Wednesday, after hearing the petitions of Attorney W. E. Atwell of this city, recommended the granting of a parole to Bertha Olessewski, the 18 year old Stevens Point girl who was sentenced to the House of the Good Shepherd at Milwaukee two years ago. The parole, if granted, must come through the board in charge of the home.

SUED FOR DIVORCE.

Dr. John Rennie of Marion, a former resident of this city, is being sued for divorce in Waupaca county. In the complaint, the woman in the case sets forth that she is Rennie's common law wife, they having lived together since 1908. The defendant answers the complaint by charging that the plaintiff was a party to a common law marriage with a man named Thompson and is the mother of a child of the latter from whom she has never been divorced. Dr. Rennie, who is a veterinary surgeon, is paying the woman $30 a month temporary alimony, by agreement.

GET MUCH DOG MONEY.

As a result of the activity of Chief of Police Hofsoos and Officer Falkiewicz, a new record for dog license receipts is believed to have been established in Stevens Point this year. On Monday the chief turned in $60 to the treasurer, making over $300 in all that has been paid in by him since the first of July. Officer Falkiewicz in two days last week gathered in over $50 in the Fourth ward. The chief is determined to have every dog in the city adorned with a license tag or slumbering under the sod, and expects to collect at least $100 more before the work is completed. In addition to that collected by the police, City Treasurer Boyer received $143 for licenses during the month of June.

IS WORTH CONSIDERATION.

Offers of increased compensation for his services have come from other cities of the state to Ernest Weber, director of Weber's band and orchestra, and unless Stevens Point takes action, he may conclude to give up his local work.

Mr. Weber has been director of the local band for six or seven years and it is now in excellent condition and recognized as one of the best musical organizations of its kind in the state. Although its members, who now number 25, are all local residents and many of them working men, the band does not suffer by comparison with professional organizations of similar size. The city pays $600 a year in payment for the weekly concerts during the summer months, and of this Mr. Weber turns over $150 to the other members of the band. Thus Stevens Point has been getting the services of one of the best directors in the state for the sum of $450 per year.

The proposal is made that Mr. Weber be paid $600 per year, with an additional allowance of $1 per man for each of the summer concerts. It is believed that this arrangement would serve to keep Mr. Weber here and, as a consequence, maintain the present high standard of the band, which is worth much more than that amount as an advertising medium to the city.

WOOLWORTHS COME SOON.

Rapid progress is being made on the new Shafton block, 319 Main street, the first floor and basement of which is to be occupied by one of the Woolworth ten cent stores. The interior decorating is now being done and the display windows, which are oval glass with metal frames, installed. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy by the last of the month. In anticipation of its completion, the Woolworth people have already shipped a good sized stock to the city.

RAINS QUENCH FIRES.

The recent rains did good service in quenching the grass fires in the Portage county drainage district, in fact the fires have been entirely extinguished. The damage from the fires, which scattered over approximately 1,000 acres, mostly in the town of Grant, although they extended over into the town of Pine Grove, is not heavy, it is stated. The country over which they spread is largely wild land and but few cultivated fields and no buildings were touched. The land, itself, was somewhat damaged, despite the old belief that fires increase the fertility of the soil. Crops in the district are said to be excellent, fulfilling the earlier expectations of the tillers of the soil.

STORE PROPERTY SOLD.

The property at the southwest corner of Clark and S. Third streets, has been sold by H. C. Moen to Samuel Goldberg for approximately $6,000, a house and lot on Water street being given by Mr. Goldberg as part payment. The property includes a lot with a frontage of 52 feet on Clark street and depth of 90 feet, and frame buildings, the most important of which is the two story structure that was occupied by Mr. Moen for many years as a grocery store and residence. A couple of months ago Mr. Moen sold his grocery stock to F. B. Roe and R. G. Hoese, who have a three year lease on the store. Mr. Goldberg is the proprietor of the second hand store at 119 S. Third street.

ENGAGE NEW MINISTER.

Rev. R. J. McLandress of Neenah has been engaged as stated supply pastor of the local Presbyterian church for a period of one year, this action having been taken by the congregation at a meeting held at the close of the regular morning service Sunday. Mr. McLandress has officiated at services at the church the last two Sundays and has favorably impressed those who have met and heard him. It is possible he may be chosen as permanent pastor, but this, of course, is entirely a question to be decided at some time in the future. Mr. McLandress will be here regularly after Sunday, Sept. 3, when Rev. John A. Stemen will formally sever his pastoral relations with the congregation.

KREMB'S WITHDRAWS NAME.

Although he filed his nomination papers last week, Anton C. Krembs will not be a candidate for re-nomination on the Democratic ticket for the office of assemblyman. The law prescribes that every candidate, after filing his nomination papers, must declare his intention of qualifying for the office he seeks if successful at the general election. The time limit for so doing has expired and Mr. Krembs is the only one who filed nomination papers who has not made final provision for having his name appear on the official primary ballot. His action was due to the late entry of J. J. Omernik of Sharon as a candidate against Mr. Krembs and P. H. Cashin, furnishing a three-cornered contest. Omernik and Mr. Cashin will now "fight it out" between themselves for the honor.

CORRIGAN TO SPEAK.

Walter D. Corrigan, the Milwaukee attorney and recent candidate for justice of the supreme court, will appear in Stevens Point this evening as the first political spellbinder of the fall campaign. Mr. Corrigan is stumping Waushara and Portage counties, his "old stamping grounds," in the interests of W. H. Hutton, who is opposing Philipp and McGovern for the Republican nomination for governor. He is also furthering the interests of the other progressive Republican candidates and the national Republican ticket. Dr. George D. Whiteside, chairman of the county Republican organization and candidate for assembly, met Mr. Corrigan at Plainfield last evening and was with him part of today. Mr. Corrigan spoke at Bancroft and Almond this morning, at Amherst and Plover this afternoon, and will speak here at 8 o'clock this evening at the court house square. W. E. Atwell of this city will preside at the local meeting.

BOARD PLANS IMPROVEMENTS.

The board of public works, at a meeting held last Thursday, instructed Clerk Bronson to order 1,100 feet of segment block sewer pipe for the new Brawley street sewer, work on which will be commenced as soon as possible. The board also instructed the clerk to purchase another car of road oil and to notify W. W. Mitchell to remove the piling and other obstructions from the mouth of the slough and to install a boom to hold back flood trash from the river. Street foreman Anschuetz was instructed to order material for a 30 foot concrete culvert on Central avenue and to take steps toward cleaning out the slough. The bid of J. W. Moxon on the Third street bridge over the slough was accepted, with the provision that he furnish a five-year guarantee.

NOT TO CLOSE SCHOOL

West Side Institution Will Continue in Use—Board of Education Holds Meeting.

The monthly meeting of the board of education was held in the First ward school building, Monday evening, all members being present except Messrs. H. C. Welty, H. A. Vetter and C. W. Simonson. H. H. Pagel was acting clerk.

The report of the finance committee for the month of July was submitted, found correct, and the bills allowed.

Miss Agnes Kinney of Winneconne was engaged as instructor in the school for the deaf for the coming year at a salary of $900, following the report of the teachers' committee. Miss Kinney has taught in the schools of Milwaukee and Winnepeg, Can., and also taken special training in New York city. For five years she held the principalship of a ward school at Antigo, and comes to the city highly recommended. It is expected that the deaf school will have an enrollment of about seven or eight pupils this year.

Frank Grubba was engaged as janitor of the West Side school at a salary of $25 per month.

The resignation of Miss Margaret Clifford, principal of the Second ward, was presented to the board, and accepted. Miss Clifford has taught in the local schools for the past sixteen years, teaching two years in the fifth and sixth grades of the Fifth ward and for fourteen years in the eighth grade, seven years of which she held the principalship. Since the opening of the new Second ward building, she has held the principalship of that school, and her entire work has placed her as one of the city's most able instructors.

Several changes in the teaching force were then recommended by the committee on teachers and accepted by the board. Miss Lettie Wick was made principal of the Second ward school and teacher in the eighth grade. She has held the principalship of the Sixth ward for the past several years. Her salary will be the same. Miss Eva Koehl, who has taught in the 5th and 6th grades of the Fourth ward, will be made principal of the Sixth ward and teacher of the 7th grade. Miss Clare Collins was promoted from 3rd and 4th grade teacher in the Fourth ward, to principal of that school. Miss Anna Gavin, who had been teaching at Nelsonville, was elected to fill the vacancy created by Miss Collins' promotion, at a salary of $52.50 a month.

A complete report was then made by Supt. H. C. Snyder on the assignment of teachers for the coming school year, as follows:

West Side—Myrtle Rogers, grades 1 and 2.

First ward—Bernice Cauley, grades 1 and 2; Stella Murat, 3rd; Kate Welch, 5th; Agnes Kinney, deaf school.

Second ward—Anna Dunegan kindergarten; Mary Pender, 1st and 2nd grades; Julia Wick, 4th; Lettie Wick, 8th; Winifred Hamilton, 8th; Adeline Grimm, 7th and 8th.

Third ward—Kindergarten to be supplied by Normal school; Anna Wright, 1st and 2nd grades; Lauretta Schilling, 4th and 5th; Marguerite Hinkleley, 7th.

Fourth ward—Caroline Skinner, kindergarten; Nellie Reading, 1st grade; Merle Raymond, 2nd; Anna Gavin, 3rd and 4th; Clare Collins, 5th and 6th.

Fifth ward—Grace Skinner, kindergarten; Anna Olsen, 1st grade; Alice Rogers, 2nd; Kate Clements, 3rd; Alice Leahy, 6th; Isabelle Horne, ungraded room.

Sixth ward—Lillian Anderson, kindergarten; Laura Pratt, 1st grade; Mary Collins, 2nd; Ethel Gee, 3rd; Inez Smith, 4th; Pearl Reinhart, 5th; Kate Grimm, 6th; Eva Koehl, 7th.

It was decided to open third and fourth grades in the West Side school, following reports that sufficient pupils would be in attendance to warrant the opening of the grades. The teachers' committee was then instructed to secure teachers for these grades.

The teachers' committee was also authorized to report at next meeting suitable names for the different ward buildings. In practically all cities, distinctive names have been substituted for wards, and it is likely that such changes will be made in the local schools in the near future.

HOW TO WRITE EFFECTIVE ADVERTISING

Advertisement writers usually make one or two errors. Some of them fill their space so full of fine type that the whole array of closely set matter looks forbidding. Others are too indifferent to give details, and merely write a few catch phrases in big type. If the merchant does not want to take much space, let him pick out a few of his best values and feature them. If the goods are "Seconds," say so. The public will have all the more confidence because you tell the truth. Deceptions are boomerangs.

The news element in advertising should be given great prominence. Remember that a mark down sale or the purchase of a job lot are the best news in the paper. No battle fought in France will attract half as much real interest. If you are marking down your goods, give your reasons frankly, so that the public can gain the impression that the thing is honest.

Furniture advertising should emphasize the fine quality of craftsmanship and the durability of goods. A price may be high, but if you can make the householder feel that he is getting a chair or rug that will wear a life time and give distinction to his home, he is attracted.

All advertising of food products should dwell on sanitary conditions and cleanliness of store and factory. People are very sensitive on these points now.

To sum up the whole series which The Gazette has been running for the past five weeks: Don't talk in your ad as if you were addressing a July Fourth celebration. Talk to the readers of a newspaper in the same simple language, with emphasis on the points of your stock, that you would use in talking to a customer across your counter. Then your advertising will sell goods.
